

Amadeus Air Data

The leading data provider for air travel trends

In a dynamic industry like travel, being able to accurately track the flow of air passenger movement and the data related to the traveler journey is essential to driving growth and innovation across your organization. With Amadeus Air Data you can gain the deepest level of insight from algorithms that use real air booking data to gain a comprehensive view of the traveler's journey.

With these insights you can:

- _ Identify the top origin markets for inbound travelers
- _ Identify opportunities for new airline routes and capacity increases
- _ Understand the volume of air travelers expected to travel in the next 6 months
- _ Effectively target the right audience based on a better understanding of traveler profiles and intent

Empowering Strategies

Amadeus air data is powered by billions of global, real-time travel transactions to deliver deep insights into worldwide traveler planning and purchasing behaviors. Identify opportunities at the country and city level in terms of traveler intent, bookings, length of trip, airline offer and total number of visitors to make favorable decisions for your organization.
